50 Million Americans Expected To Vote

35 Governor Posts Up For Grabs In Tuesday Elections

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans looking toward the 1964 presidential contest nurtured high hopes today of winning key governor's posts when about 50 million Americans go to the polls Tuesday.

In an interim election which may be influenced by the continuing crisis over Cuba, Democrats expected to come close to holding their own in House contests and even talked of the possibility of small Senate gains.

At about 169,000 polling places from Maine to Hawaii, voters will officially choose 35 governors, 39 senators and 435 House members.

New Hampshire Vote 1st

If the usual pattern is maintained, balloting will begin shortly after midnight tonight in a couple of New Hampshire hamlets and end at 2 a.m., EST, Wednesday in the reaches of Alaska's farthest west time zone.

The Weather Bureau predicted dry but chilly Election Day weather for most of the nation.

President Kennedy was scheduled to fly to Boston late today to cast his ballot there Tuesday for his brother, Edward M. Kennedy, who is rated a sure winner in the Massachusetts race for the President's old Senate seat.

The White House said the First Lady has cast an absentee ballot and will not make the trip.

On the eve of the election, Republicans were favored to win 19 of the governorship races, Democrats 16. This could alter radically the present bases of power in the states where presidential elections are won or lost.

GOP Holds 16 States

The GOP now holds the governorships of only 16 states with 129 electoral votes. There are contests in 14 of these states. Only the governors of Montana and Utah, which have a total of eight electoral votes, are Republican holdovers.

Democrats are governors in 34 states which will cast 406 electoral votes in 1964. There are no contests this year in 13 of these with 152 electoral votes.

Because their chances of making any substantial gains in the House and Senate races appear dim, Republicans are looking to the governor contests not only to give them an upward surge toward the 1964 presidential battle but to point toward a possible nominee to oppose President Kennedy.

An Associated Press survey indicated that Republicans have a slight edge in efforts to take away Democratic seats in Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Wyoming.

Favored In Pennsylvania

The GOP is credited with the advantage in trying to hold on to party governorships in Massachusetts, Minnesota, Iowa, South Dakota, Kansas, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon and Hawaii. The loss of New Hampshire would be regarded as an upset. GOP victories in New York, Maine and Vermont seem certain.

Local correspondents give the Democrats a small margin in efforts to hold on to the statehouses in California, Colorado, Connecticut, Ohio, North Dakota and Texas. They list greater certainty of retaining executive offices in Rhode Island, Maryland, Nevada and Alaska.

Democratic retention of the governorships of Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, South Carolina and Tennessee is certain.

Only in New Mexico do the Democrats seem to have a good chance to turn out a Republican governor.

Drawing Top Attention

The governor races in New York, California, Pennsylvania and Michigan are drawing the lion's share of attention from both Republicans and Democrats.

In New York, GOP Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller probably has to win big over Robert M. Morgenthau to preserve his position as a top prospect for the 1964 party nomination to oppose Kennedy.

In California, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is staking his political life on the outcome of his battle with Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

In Pennsylvania, Rep. William W. Scranton could make himself a rising star in the Republican party by winning the governorship in his race against Democrat Richardson Dilworth.

In Michigan, George Romney, the former compact car man, could rise to challenge Rockefeller and others for the prize two years from now with a victory over Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson.

In Senate races, local adsmakers credit the Democrats with varying possibilities of winning present Republican seats in Connecticut, Kentucky, Maryland, South Dakota, Utah and Wisconsin.

Long After Current Crisis Ends

U.S. Will Continue Cuba Surveillance

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy feels U.S. surveillance of Cuba will have to be continued in some form long after the current missile crisis is settled, government sources report.

Alleged Bank Robber Caught

FBI Arrests One Of 10 Most Wanted

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Albert Frederic Nussbaum Jr., 28, alleged bank robber and one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men, has been captured here following a reported tip to the FBI by his mother-in-law.

Soon after he was seized early Sunday following a 20-minute high-speed automobile chase by the FBI and Buffalo police, Nussbaum became groggy and was rushed to a hospital, where his stomach was pumped.

A physician said Nussbaum apparently had swallowed something to cause the grogginess.

No shots were fired. A 22-caliber rifle, ammunition for it and two live hand grenades, were found in the car but Nussbaum surrendered without a struggle, agents said.

The Buffalo Courier-Express said it had learned from an authoritative source that Nussbaum's mother-in-law, Mrs. Sylvester Majchrowicz, had telephoned the FBI Saturday night and said her daughter had spoken to Nussbaum on the telephone a short time earlier.

The FBI declined to discuss how Nussbaum was located.

Nussbaum and Bobby Randall Wilcox, 33, of Delray Beach, Fla., who still is missing, are charged with participating in four bank robberies in which a total of more than $160,000 was taken in Buffalo, Washington, D.C. and Brooklyn. Wilcoxson, another of the FBI's 10 most wanted men, allegedly shot and killed a bank guard and wounded a policeman in the Brooklyn holdup.

Nussbaum undoubtedly will be questioned about the $1½ million Plymouth, Mass., mail truck robbery last Aug. 14. Boston police had circulated composite drawings of persons involved in the robbery. New England's chief postal inspector, William F. White said two drawings bore "a strong resemblance" to Nussbaum and Wilcoxson.

Two Mishaps Probed By Lisbon Police

LISBON Police investigated two accidents over the weekend. One driver was cited.

At 5 p.m. Sunday, John E. Adams, 18, Lisbon RD 1, was driving west on W. Washington St. and struck the rear end of a car operated by Bernard R. Smith, 29, Leetonia RD 1, who was attempting to turn into an alley off Washington St.

Adams told Ptl. John Varner that his brakes failed. He was cited for driving an unsafe vehicle and told to follow the cruiser to the City Hall, but he failed to obey, police said.

Saturday at 5:40 p.m. cars driven by Richard E. Dyke, 45, of Negley, RD 1 and Jack B. Donnelly, 31, Lisbon RD 3, sideswiped on E. Lincoln Way.

Republicans also have chances of knocking off Democrats in Colorado, Pennsylvania and Wyoming. The signs are so jumbled in all nine of these states that the Senate outcome could be almost a dead heat if allowances were made for possible upsets in other close contests. Democrats now control the Senate by a 64-36 margin.

The rundown on House contests gives the Republicans almost no hope of winning control of that body. They might pick up a half-dozen seats but that would still leave them on the short end of a 255-180 count.

cify how the watch would be kept. The object they said, would be to guard against any future introduction of Soviet missiles into Cuba.

Aerial photographs of the island last month gave the first hard evidence that the Soviet Union was mounting an offensive missile threat in Cuba, the White House has said. It was from aerial photos taken last Thursday that the administration concluded Soviet Premier Khrushchev had begun to make good on his pledge to tear down the missile bases.

The Navy, in maintaining an arms blockade of Cuba, has also been filling surveillance role.

Removal of the missiles and other Soviet offensive arms from Cuba remains a thorny problem. By the terms of the Kennedy-Khrushchev agreement, the United Nations would supervise the verification that Soviet missiles have been withdrawn from the island.

The government sources who discussed Kennedy's position emphasized that he is determined to verify the removal of the weapons by international inspection teams—and that nothing less will be satisfactory.

While the United States and the Soviet Union are reported prepared to have the International Red Cross fill the inspection role

5 Persons Injured In City Accident

Following a two-car accident at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of S. Ellsworth Ave. and Wilson St., five persons were treated for injuries at the Central Clinic and released.

Injured were:

David Carson Gorman, 21, of 542 N. Ellsworth Ave., one of the drivers, contusions of the left lower chest, and his passengers, Eleanor Endres, 26, of MC 1, Salem, contusion of the left jaw, and Lawrence Endres, eight, of RD 1, Leetonia, injury to the left thigh; and Mrs. Mary Gleckler, 36, of RD 1, Beloit, the other driver, contusion of the nose and lip, and her passenger, Gary Gleckler, 12, contusion of the scalp.

Gorman told police he had the green light and was eastbound on Wilson St. and as he entered the intersection of S. Ellsworth he was struck broadside by the southbound automobile driven by Mrs. Gleckler. She told police she did not know the color of the light when she entered the intersection.

Both cars were damaged.

Middle East Threatened by Yemen Crisis

Ex-King's Attempt To Regain Crown May Cause Conflict

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — A deepening crisis over Yemen threatened today to touch off a Middle East conflict pitting conservative monarchies against President Gamel Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic.

On one side are the royal strongholds of Saudi Arabia and Jordan and on the other the Yemeni revolutionary regime backed by the U.A.R.

The crisis touched off by the overthrow of Yemen's ancient throne in September reached a new fever point Sunday with threats by the rebel regime to invade Saudi Arabia's main southern port of Qizan and the interior city of Najran.

Support Ousted King

Saudi Arabia and Jordan are supporting attempts by the deposed Yemeni king, Imam Mohammad Al-Badr, to regain his throne. The United Arab Republic has sent planes and tanks and perhaps 1,000 soldiers into the tiny Red Sea country to aid the revolutionary regime.

Yemeni revolutionary President Abdullah Sallal voiced the invasion threat against Saudi Arabia as that country's radio claimed royalist warriors now control Yemen's entire northwest.

Communications purporting to come from Al-Badr's headquarters claimed hundreds of rebels, including many U.A.R. troops, had been killed in the fighting. The communications said that in northern Yemen royalist forces have tightened their siege of the regime's capital of Sada.

Claims Are Disputed

Sallal disputed the claims, saying that his U.A.R.-supported army and air force crushed "a large scale Saudi invasion" and that the entire northwest region where the fighting occurred was now "completely under republican control."

He claimed nearly 4,000 invaders were killed in four days of fighting.

Two Persons Hurt In 3-Car Mishap

Patricia A. Close, 16, of RD 1, Beloit, and Florence J. Hartman, 69, of New Kensington, Pa., received minor injuries in an accident involving three vehicles at 5:45 p.m. Sunday on Route 62, one and a half miles west of Rt. 534.

All three vehicles were eastbound. A car driven by Charles Hartman, 31, of New Kensington, halted when the car in front of him, driven by Miss Close, stopped to make a north turn. The rear of the Hartman car was then struck by a pickup truck driven by Ray E. Mayberry, 24, of Jonesville, Mich., causing the Hartman car to strike the Close car.

Miss Close suffered a whiplash of the neck, and Mrs. Hartman, a passenger in the middle vehicle, received contusions of the neck. Both were treated at the Central Clinic and released.

Vote To Climax Hammer, Tongs Governor Race

Representatives for House, Senate Also Will Be Selected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A jury of about 3.8 million Ohio voters will reach its decision Tuesday on a hammer-and-tongs contest for governor and on a somewhat more subdued race for U.S. senator.

Little if any numerical change is expected in the Ohio congressional delegation which Republicans now control 16-7, but the extra U.S. House seat Ohio picked up in the 1960 census is expected to go to the GOP.

Eight Other Races

Voter decisions on eight other statewide races will be forthcoming as well as a ruling on one proposed constitutional amendment.

Only one contest appears to have captured public interest. It is the race for governor between Democratic incumbent Michael V. DiSalle, seeking a second four-year term, and Republican State Auditor James A. Rhodes. Their rugged battle for top spot in the Buckeye State has gone right down to the wire with most observers calling it a tossup.

Lausche Favored

Democratic U.S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, a conservative with a reputation for independence, is a solid re-election favorite over Republican John Marshall Briley of Toledo. Lausche's recent hospitalization because of an illness his aides say was induced by exhaustion does not appear to have affected his role as heavy favorite.

Republican Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati is rated practically a shoo-in for the new post of congressman-at-large over Democrat Richard D. Kennedy of Cleveland. Kennedy, a political unknown, emerged the Democratic nominee last May from a pack of 11 candidates, but Ohio Democratic leaders have ignored him since then, largely because of his conservative civil rights views.

Sunday Sales Law

The constitutional issue up for decision was taken directly to the ballot by initiative petition. The sponsor, a large milk company, asserts the amendment would clarify Ohio's confused Sunday-closing law situation by providing that no law or local ordinance could prohibit the Sunday sale of a specific group of goods and services—including milk and milk products.

Opponents contend the amendment is a subterfuge designed only to legalize milk and food sales on Sunday. A simple majority is required to write the so-called blue laws amendment into the Ohio Constitution.

City Water, Sewage Collections Increase

The Salem Water and Sewage Department collected $17,593.24 for water and $8,254.34 for sewage in October, Utilities Superintendent Aubrey Hayes reported today.

These are increases over October, 1961, figures which were $15,793.93 for water and $7,697.07 for sewage.

The total water collection for the first 10 months of this year amounted to $155,775.83. The amount for the corresponding period last year was $147,673.02.

Sewage collection, which totaled $72,564.54 for the first 10 months of 1962, was $74,656.13 from January through October of this year.

An increase of more than six and a half million gallons of water were pumped last month over that pumped in October of 1961, Hayes revealed. Last month 42,277,000 gallons were pumped and in October, 1961, 35,613,000. During the first 10 months of this year 402,187,000 gallons were pumped. Gallons pumped from January through October of last year numbered 378,727,000.

Health Questions And Answers

Q—I am 47, my height is 5-feet-5½ inches, and I have weighed about 130 pounds all my adult life. In the last year or two, however, my weight has gone up to as much as 142 pounds and I feel like a balloon.

At present, even though I am down to 136 I am very conscious of my extra weight seems to be Dr. Brandstadt mostly on my thighs. I have tried to cut down on fatty foods and sweets but after about three days of this I crave for something sweet.

A—Arbitrary figures for the desirable weight in an adult of a certain height have been discarded and ranges of weights depending on body build have been adopted in their place. If you have a medium frame your weight should be between 118 and 133 pounds. Unless you have a special condition your excessive weight can come only from taking more calories than you can use up.

Many people make the mistake of trying to lose weight too rapidly. This leads to fatigue and irritability. The two most important factors in losing weight are: (1) a sincere wish to lose and to maintain the weight at a desirable level and, (2) the choice of enough food to give you an average loss of about half a pound a week. This requires a lot of will power but there are no short cuts to weight loss that are compatible with maintaining optimal health.

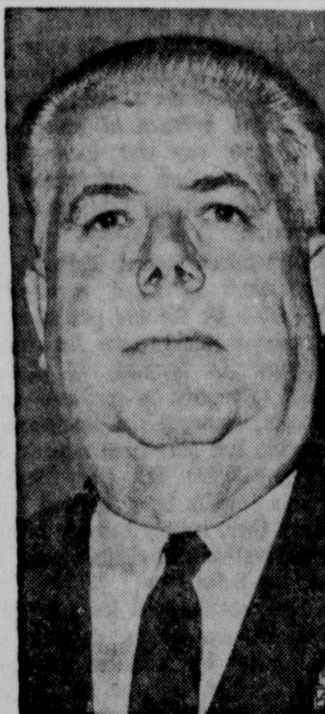

Q—I have been having trouble for some time with my head stopping up. The only relief I can get is to use a nose spray. Is there any other treatment that I should use?

A—Normally, the breathing is easier through one side of the nose than the other and there is a rhythmic alternation between the two sides. When the congestion affects both sides at once there is great discomfort.

I don't know what kind of nose spray you are using but some sprays, even though they give temporary relief, interfere with the movement of the cilia, which are tiny hairlike structures found in all mucous membranes that cause secretions to flow in a certain direction. When these cilia are temporarily paralyzed the secretions are dammed back and the feeling of congestion is aggravated. The safest procedure is to use sprays or drops that do not paralyze these cilia. Warm salt water is frequently helpful.

Unfortunately, long-continued use of other substances, whether in the form of salve, nosedrops, inhalers or sprays will set up a chronic congestion, the very condition you are trying to cure. Such a congestion is hard to eliminate.

The 1960 U.S. Census covered 18,088 incorporated places among other items. Of this total, 6,085 were towns, 4,878 villages and 1,214 boroughs. Total population of all incorporated places was 115,910,865, or nearly two-thirds of the nation's total.

Knowing Proper Operation of Equipment Can Cut Expenses

Expenses can mount when the family is unaware of the proper operation of home equipment. Many people run up heat bills because they've never bothered to investigate ways to get the most for the minimum from their furnaces.

If you are renting a house, it is imperative to have these facts as a crisis may develop when the owner is not available. You are not relieved of responsibility to your family until the problem is resolved.

WHEN YOU ARE IN trouble or the septic tank must be cleaned out in a few years, you will have to pay extra for the labor involved in locating it. Some people have had their expensively seeded lawns dug up during such a crisis and in some instances it has taken two men working an entire day to locate the tank.

Once the tank is located take a tape measure and determine its location from several points, making an entry in the house diary that it is so many feet from the door or porch steps or whatever landmark you use.

WHEN SEPTIC TANK people or others must dig around looking for the tank there is the danger that it can be cracked if it is concrete. It may be cracked in other ways too if it is near the surface of the ground, and you are unaware of its location. The weight of bulldozers, tractors or other vehicles driven over the area may be disastrous for your tank as one woman found when left to supervise the removal of some trees.

The upkeep of a house is an ever-increasing cost item, no matter how you slice it. If you'd keep within the budget you thought you set when you bought your house, avoid having to make unnecessary expenditures.

Furnace and chimney also need to be cleaned periodically, as does the home sewage system.

A HOUSEWIFE WHOSE husband is away on business a good deal writes that she was in complete darkness about the operation of their septic tank when an emergency occurred. She did not know where it was located or that it needed to be cleaned occasionally. When a joint on the house pipe connection became worn with resultant pools of softened soil in the yard, she did not suspect the cause. It wasn't until the situation worsened and caused backing up into house drains that a plumber advised her that the problem was her septic tank.

MANY HOUSEWIVES are in the same boat when it comes to such matters as septic tanks. Their husbands take this knowledge for granted, and fail to tell them what to do in emergency. But awareness should go even deeper than that. The sewage disposal system can become an expensive necessity.

Fats, greases, undissolved soaps, coffee grounds and similar material should not be poured into waste lines. Some women make a habit of it. Fats and greases should be poured into containers such as coffee cans and disposed of with garbage. Coffee grounds should be emptied into old newspaper and put into the garbage. Coffee cans and newspaper may be kept in a cabinet below the sink for this purpose.

LEAKY FAUCETS AND excessive use of water can help flood drainage fields, advise septic tank experts.

It's a good idea to find out where your septic tank is located, even if it is not giving trouble. Prod around until you find it if there is no other way of finding out. If you are in a new house, ask the builder for the name of the company that installed your tank. If you are in an old house, contact the previous owner for the information.

Small Leak Can Wear Out Faucet

Though a small leak in a faucet may not seem very important, it can very quickly wear out the faucet, says the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau. The bureau points out that the same erosion which can over millions of years develop a natural scenic wonder such as the Grand Canyon can in a very short time completely ruin a dripping faucet.

The constant flow of water which occurs between the leaking washer of the faucet and seat against which the washer should seal erodes away the surface of the seat if the leaking faucet is not repaired.

This erosion can actually ruin a faucet, making it necessary to replace the entire faucet years sooner than would be the case if proper maintenance were given when required.

With this in mind, says the bureau, it makes good sense to have your plumbing contractor check all the faucets in your home, both to repair any faulty faucets and to head off trouble caused by leaks.

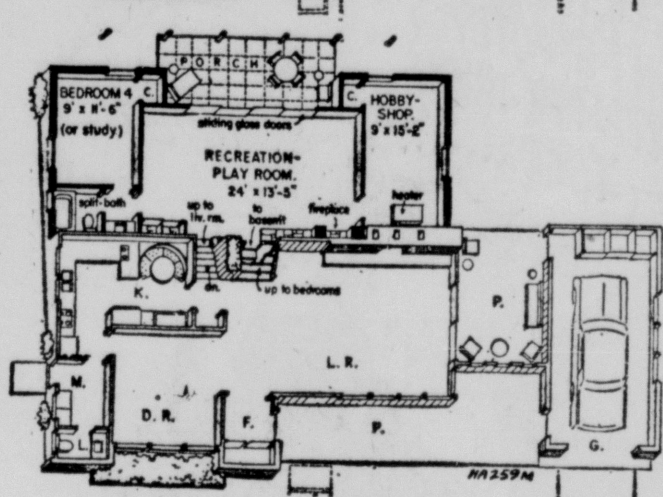

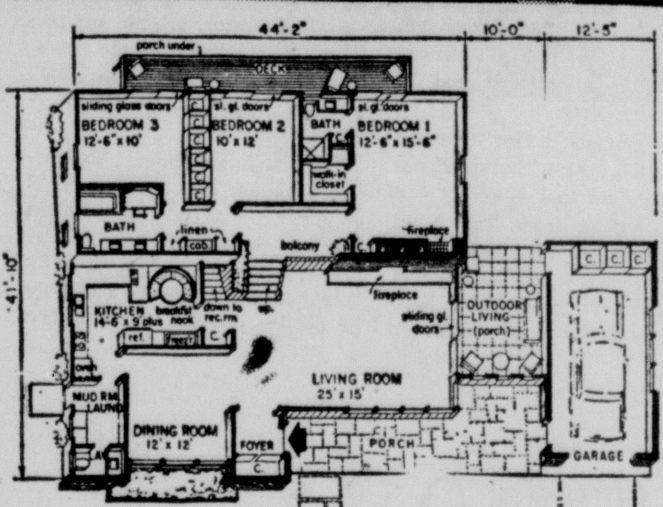

While he is there, ask him to also check the ball cock (water inlet float valve) assembly inside each water closet tank. Here, too, leaking water can cause damage requiring replacement of several parts.

If there is a leak, you can probably detect it by putting your ear close to the tank. Any trickling or hissing sound indicates a leak.

Building Permits

Thirteen permits were issued by the city to build, repair or alter buildings in Salem.

The location of the front door at a 90 degree turn from the walk allows a formal balanced gable treatment at the dining room and the projection closet and lavatory form a recess for the dining room's cathedral-type window. Handy Hints for Home Owner

Handy Hints for the Home Owner:

A good way to keep sandpaper in the workshop is to hang the sheets on one of those office-type clipboards. The paper will stay flat if it is placed face down. When necessary to select a particular grade of paper, it's easy to go through all the sheets in a few seconds.

Want to find the number of board feet in a piece of lumber? Multiply the width in feet by the length in feet. Take the total and multiply it by the thickness in inches. For purposes of pricing, all lumber less than one inch thick is considered as one inch.

In an emergency, temporary place mats can be made from pieces of aluminum foil. They will protect the table top or tablecloth and can be thrown away after the meal.

In scraping wood after the paint or varnish has been removed, use a dull putty knife. With a sharp one, there is danger of gouging the wood.

A common mistake of novices in hanging a door is to forget that there must be sufficient clearing for the rug or other floor covering. Along the same line, don't forget that when you put down resilient floor tiles over your present floor, you may not be able to close the door unless you plane or shave some off the bottom.

Nothing ruins a varnishing job more than dust. Never begin varnishing until you are certain that members of the household will not be going into your workshop (or wherever the varnishing is being done) for several hours. Ordinary walking stirs up dust that new varnish picks up immediately.

In most cases, the calking compound or other material placed between the wall and the bathtub will last longer if it is given a coat of paint two or three days after it has been installed.

There are commercial preparations to place in toolboxes to prevent rust. These usually are products that absorb moisture and keep it from attacking the tools. A good temporary substitute is a piece of charcoal, which also has moisture-absorbing properties.

From Cuba to West Berlin

When West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer comes to Washington on Wednesday, he will want to know about West Berlin. He has heard what Americans have been hearing—that West Berlin is the place to watch; that Cuba is a sideshow. He will want to know if this is still the official Washington view.

He will want to know if what the pundits are saying is true. Does its decision to draw a line in Cuba mean the United States is equally prepared to draw a line in Berlin? There has been an easy acceptance in this country of the idea that what happened in Cuba has bearing on what will happen if the Soviet Union steps up pressure to force the United States and its allies out of West Berlin. But the fact is the same as it was before: Berlin is a NATO problem, a joint responsibility.

CUBA is a problem for the United States. The United States did not consult with its allies before it told the Soviet Union to take its missiles out of Cuba. It did what it plainly had to do, then told its allies about it. It hoped for their approval but their approval wasn't asked for in advance.

There can be no one-government decision about Berlin. Our European allies must be consulted.

They are of different minds about the subject. They do not see the connection with Cuba as it is seen in the United States. Berlin to them is only the former capital of a defeated enemy.

They are not nearly so impressed with the importance of the West Berlin "showcase" as the United States, which is consequently expected to put up most of the money.

AMONG THE Allied powers and within NATO there is lack of unity about the exact meaning of the pledge to defend Berlin. Our allies are of different minds on German reunification and Germany's eastern border. Even West Germans scattered and diverse opinions on these matters. Chancellor Adenauer does not speak for all West Germans. Berlin is not Cuba.

There is no Monroe Doctrine, no throbbing mass instinct about foreign intervention where the former capital of Germany is concerned.

This does not mean the United States will not defend West Berlin to the last man. I do mean the United States will not take on an attacker singlehanded, as it assuredly was ready to do in showdown on Cuba.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Suppression of military news in time of war or international emergency is defensible. But any deliberate misrepresentation of the news by the government that causes the press to publish untrue or misleading news reports is indefensible in a democracy. It now has been revealed that during the current Cuban crisis — and as a policy for the future — various officials of the Kennedy administration believe they have a right to deceive the American people as to what is actually going on and to use the press to convey certain impressions to foreign governments. This is unprecedented in American history.

The argument is that "the end justifies the means" but overlooked is the fact that credulity can thus be broken down. This could lead a foreign government to distrust statements of resoluteness issued by the government here and to construe them as sheer bluff. Grave consequences — possibly even war — could, therefore, flow from tactics of misrepresentation.

Two of the principal newspapers of the United States have already protested publicly against any policy of manipulation of the press. They are the New York Times and the Evening Star of Washington, D. C.

The Star in an editorial Wednesday said that only those portions of the news about the Cuban blockade were made available by the Defense Department which its "omniscient manipulators of public opinion decided, in their infinite wisdom, would best serve to create the 'image' of this country's activities they wished to manufacture and place before our people and the world."

THE STAR in its news columns the previous day had quoted the assistant secretary of defense in charge of press relations as having said:

"I can't think of a comparable situation, but in the kind of world we live in, the generation of news by the government becomes one weapon in a strained situation. The results, in my opinion, justify the methods we used."

In its editorial comment, the Star said:

"Weigh those words. Their meaning is truly sinister. In an administration that is becoming quite notable in its efforts toward achieving managed control of the news, Mr. Sylvester may have overlooked one likely result of the methods we used. This result is that Mr. Sylvester and his superiors, from this time on, are suspect."

"They have, in our opinion, recklessly and thoughtlessly forfeited a confidence that in this country has been the rule, rather than the exception. What they say from now on, as arbitrarily established sources of public information, may be the truth. But that truth will be accepted with a grain of salt. . . .

"One may hope that having tasted the fruits of a use of power more readily identified with the Soviet Union, with Hitler, Mussolini and a long string of new if lesser dictators than with our own country, those in high places will now realize that this fruit is poison and discard it before an antidote becomes necessary."

THE NEW YORK Times in its editorial — also on Wednesday — said that censorship in time of crisis is understandable and necessary and that the press should exercise self-restraint. The Times, however, then added this warning:

"But to attempt to manage the news so that a free press should speak — in Sylvester's words — in 'one voice to your adversary' could be far more dangerous to the cause of freedom than the free play of dissent, than the fullest possible publication of the facts."

The Times also declared that "a democratic government cannot work if news of and about that government is long suppressed or managed or manipulated or controlled."

Interest now centers in what really did happen between Monday, Oct. 15, when 400 editors from all parts of the country were briefed and told that no invasion or blockade was contemplated, and Saturday, Oct. 20, when President Kennedy made his decision to blockade and, if necessary, to invade Cuba to get rid of the Soviet missile bases.

The high officials of the Department of State who conducted the briefing midday on Monday, Oct.

15, must have known that the air flights over Cuba were being conducted and that available evidence strongly pointed toward the existence of offensive missile power in Cuba.

Although confirmation came to the Defense Department Monday night and to the White House early Tuesday morning, no steps were taken in the subsequent six days to inform the press that it had been misled. Was this intentional or unintentional?

WHEN A CHANGE in strategy was announced by the President on Monday evening, Oct. 22, there was no explanation of why, during the preceding days of the week, the President had gone out campaigning even after he had received on Oct. 16, the official photographs showing that the bases could become operational and that American cities were in danger of being bombed.

The country has been led to believe that in a nuclear age a President should be able to order retaliatory measures in a few minutes or hours the same day. Why was the risk taken on the missile bases in Cuba?

How much of what was given out to the press was sham and how much was real?

Access to all the facts should be given now lest newsmen in the future here and abroad tend to disbelieve official briefings as merely a contrived way of creating a certain "image" for political purposes — national or international.

'Unseen' Blockade of Cuba

By VICTOR RIESEL

UNITED NATIONS There is on the shores of the Black Sea a huge plant which the Russians, with quaint touch and red brush, have named the "January Uprising Factory."

Victor Riesel

tro hardly is thinking of going out of the war business. Assembling, si. Dismantling, no.

That January Uprising installation is merely one of a complex of 18 massive plants in the Odessa harbor area which produce for Cuba. "Uprising" makes 12-ton capacity cranes adapted for special construction work—quite capable of military construction.

From that industrial park, the Cubans are getting radial drilling equipment adapted for tropical climate, varied milling machinery, medical facilities and special motion picture machines for propaganda operations.

All this material—hardware easily convertible for military use—which comes from the Odessa interlocked factory complex, is mighty complex. So the Russians have imported hundreds of young Cubans for training there.

Soon these young men will replace the Soviet technicians who are being "dismantled."

THE CUBANS also will be able to handle all types of automatic equipment, cranes, tractors, electric motors, agricultural machinery and chemicals. These are on the docks awaiting loading in the big part of Leningrad.

It is from there that the vessel Kislovodsk sailed originally. The Kislovodsk was one of the ships recalled by the Soviets to keep its secret cargo from being inspected by our warships.

But the other material, that of the January Uprising factory and that now on the Leningrad docks, will not be turned back—unless American seamen and longshoremen can block the shipments. And our waterfront workers certainly will try.

Their "Blockade" has not and will not soon be called off. For them action is just beginning. They can not, of course, affect or hamper Russian cargo carriers. But our waterfront workers and seagoing men can cripple the Soviet's effort to use ships of other nations.

AND THE RUSSIANS desperately need these foreign ships. The USSR merchant fleet alone can't take the strain of becoming a long water ferry from Leningrad and Odessa to Havana. Not without crippling Russia's other supply lines. Not without renegeing on its commitments elsewhere across the world.

Already the Russians have had to reorganize their ocean transiting called the "Soyuzveshtrans"—a single center to control export and import of all cargo. But they need ships and more ships.

At the moment the Yugoslavs are building 23 tankers for Russia. The Japanese have 63 vessels on order from the Russians. And the Soyuzveshtrans wants at least 20 more—though the Japanese are still working on the first 18 of the ordered lot. Six more tankers are being rushed in Italy, and additional cargo carriers in Sweden, Denmark and West Germany.

Obviously the Soviets would not be spending hundreds of millions of dollars in hard foreign exchange if they did not need the carriers. And while awaiting delivery, they are chartering some 500 ships from non-Communist nations.

IT IS THIS varied fleet which Joe Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, wants boycotted by sailors of the free world. Curran launched that boycott almost two months ago.

He still is pushing it though the International Transportworkers Federation (ITF) high council, with global headquarters in London, has rejected his bid to call a world boycott.

ITF general secretary, Pieter de Vries, wrote me the other day to say that such a move against Cuba would be political. Remembering that ITF members recently had boycotted Spain-bound ships, De Vries said that this was different. Spanish workers were on strike, he wrote, and thus the boycott was "industrial" action in support of the Spanish strikers.

De Vries appears to have forgotten that Castro has executed labor leaders.

This story is not complete without a report on the American dockworkers' action. They have immobilized 26 shoremen, the International Longshoremen's Association leader, Teddy Gleason, tells me.

THIS IS A COSTLY matter for the longshoremen. Had they handled ships which have been carrying Soviet or Cuban cargoes before coming into U.S. ports, they would have earned over $260,000 in regular pay. The boycott has cost them their wages. And longshoremen don't have cash reserves.

Their New York national headquarters has become an information center for shipping brokers.

These agents constantly call for information on the history of hundreds of ships so they can avoid chartering those vessels which have made a dollar or a peso or a ruble from the Communists.

Soon it will be unprofitable for shipowners to deal with the Russians or Castro.

There is a real blockade after all—unseen though it is.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Chicago.

Regrets Slur

Dear Ann: I'm a very unhappy young lady of 16. Several months ago I said some vicious things about a girl I didn't know very well. Part of it was stuff I had heard from someone who is famous for having a big yap. I added a little here and there and made the girl out to be a tramp.

A few weeks ago I was in this person's company and found her to be downright wholesome and a lot of fun. I saw her a few times after that and now I have grown fond of her.

I would like to be her friend but I'm afraid to invite her to my house or make a show date with her because of all the talking I have done.

Believe me, I've learned my lesson. Is there any way I can go around with this girl without looking like a two-faced hypocrite?—MONTANA BIG MOUTH.

Dear Big Mouth: Yes. You can tell your friends you misjudged ashamed of yourself.

And let this be a lesson to you as well as to ALL big mouths everywhere. We are forever the masters of our unspoken words. Once they are uttered—they master US.

Hungry Guests

Dear Ann: I've never written to a paper in my life but what happened last night was the last straw.

We were invited to an open house reception. The occasion was in honor of a golden wedding anniversary. The three children of the honored couple gave the reception.

When my husband and I arrived we were stunned. The only refreshments in sight were plain fruit punch, coffee and cake. There was not a casserole or a sandwich to be seen. There wasn't a nut or a cookie or a dish of candy. We've been to dozens of receptions and never before have we seen such a poor excuse for a table.

These people could well afford to serve something to eat. They have all been around enough to know that on a weekend when guests are invited to a reception from 4 to 7 they expect to get fed. Your comments are wanted. —CAN'T GET OVER IT.

Dear Can't: Sorry, your complaint leaves me cold. Did you go to the reception to offer congratulations and good wishes—or to fill your stomachs? Obviously it was the latter or you wouldn't have written.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Another Dream World Collapses

In Washington, at the United Nations and in many other places the kindest of the unknown names for Krishna Menon, India's now displaced minister of defense, has been "Goa constrictor," referring to the way this peace-loving fellow swallowed that Portuguese enclave when the time came.

This is the man who has been sitting in judgment on others, calling them threats to world peace and security.

This is the swivel-tongued spokesman for India who said he would refuse U.S. arms aid if it was offered to protect India from a Communist Chinese invasion because it would represent a kind of military alliance and military alliances threatened world peace but saw nothing wrong with Russian fighting planes.

This is the enigmatic statesman-diplomat-civil servant who was unable to see any difference between the Communist doctrine of expansion by subversion and expansion and the U.S. doctrine of stability by collective security.

This is the man whose personal hold on Prime Minister Nehru had baffled observers in every attentive capital of the world—baffled them because they could not understand how Nehru could be so blind as not to see what was clear to them. Menon was living in a dream world.

His dream world has collapsed. He has been downgraded for the Chinese invasion of India.

A lot of dream worlds have collapsed lately, including the one they liked in the Kremlin—the one where Communists got everything they grabbed for and Americans stood by and murmured, "Let's negotiate."

Official Blow At Press Freedom

Actions of the Kennedy administration in handling information about the Cuban crisis have stirred suspicion in the Washington news corps.

The suspicion is that an administration keenly concerned with image-making and better equipped than its predecessors to make images gave the press corps a deliberate brush-off during the climax of the crisis.

The assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, Arthur Sylvester, has put substance behind the suspicion with an admission that the government "managed" the news about Cuba; that news was a weapon in the drive to force Russia to dismantle its missile bases. In other words, information was part of the strategy.

LEE HILLS, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, has criticized this strongly. It can be predicted with certainty that a kiss-and-make-up job will be forthcoming, to allay suspicion of the Kennedy administration.

But the damage has been done. In a pinch, the people's right to know was disregarded. The government sat on information to hatch its own chickens. Moreover, the government is still sitting.

For instance, what really was meant by President Kennedy's pledge to refrain from invading Cuba? Was it a signoff of all Cubans who want to get rid of both Castro and the Communists? And have we given Khrushchev a military base in this hemisphere he can use any way he pleases as long as he doesn't have any missiles in sight long enough to blow up key targets in the United States?

WE ARE SURE the Kennedy administration will explain everything to its complete satisfaction. We have a strong doubt it ever will explain anything again to the complete satisfaction of the press corps it manhandled in the Cuban crisis.

Another of those famous "honeymoons" is over. From now on, the Kennedy administration will be handled as roughly as any of its predecessors by the newsmen who sometimes had seemed to regard it as above any possible reproach.

Man With the Whiskers

The way we sized it up, Kennedy listens to Khrushchev but does not listen to Castro. Castro talks to Thant but listens to Khrushchev. Khrushchev had been trying to replace Thant with a three-member committee but now is glad he couldn't do it because Thant can listen to everybody whereas Khrushchev cannot afford to listen to some, even though he wants to know what they are saying.

If things get squared around so Thant can talk to Khrushchev and Castro will listen to Thant, Kennedy can talk to Castro and Castro will listen to him instead of Khrushchev and the latter can afford to listen to everybody because they won't be saying anything that will cause him to lose face, it will be safe to come up out of the bomb shelter.

Except there will still be one thing about Cuba that no one will be able to understand without a chart—the status of Castro.

He is the symbol of Cuban sovereignty, he says.

He is Mister Big, the man to see, the top banana, the fellow who makes decisions. This is the official illusion, and Secretary-General Thant is going along with it.

But who is really making the decisions in Cuba and the decisions about Cuba? Is talking to Castro like telling the man with the whiskers what we want for Christmas? Should Thant be in Moscow instead of Havana?

That's Progress

By Truman Twill

The autumn chore men dread most, if they do their own housework, is putting up storm windows.

There isn't a householder who hasn't paused in the performance of this disagreeable job to wonder aloud, in a voice that could be heard a mile away, "Why in the name of —!&—! doesn't home genius figure out a way to get rid of these things?"

Many geniuses have tried and several have succeeded. There are storm windows that the painless and there are ways to keep down heating bills that are better than the best storm windows. But for householders who will continue to put them up in the fall and take them down next May there is this small wisp of comfort, offered herewith.

It has been proved by men with deep courage and high ideals that storm windows are as useful for keeping out heat in summer as for insulating window areas against chill in winter.

The same principle — a layer of entrapped air — keeps a house cool that keeps a house warm. Storm windows provide insulation in all seasons.

Do householders of great wealth who can afford windows with double panes of glass that provide insulation without using storm windows object to using them 12 months a year? Of course not.

They consider themselves lucky to have a good thing going for them.

What, then, of householders of moderate circumstances who use storm windows for the same effect; why shouldn't they consider themselves lucky?

Thoughts like these have gone through my mind year after year as the storm window chore fell due. They have occurred as commonly in connection with window screens as with storm windows, incidentally.

What is the sense of installing a screen in every window when some windows are never opened and some that are opened wouldn't need to be opened?

What is the sense of taking down and putting up this paraphernalia when a logical solution would be to think of certain windows as permanent, fixed and unchangeable?

Let some of the storm windows stay there, Mac. If SHE asks about it, tell her they're jammed. Give her the benefit of the doubt by washing them on the outside and suggesting it's her job to keep them clean on the inside.

By the end of July she will quit squawking. Keep a record of men in the community who have hurt themselves fooling with storm windows, including some who perished without having enough insurance to attract replacements.

Election Result To Affect JFK

May Alter Stand With Congress

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The most interesting result of Tuesday's elections should be the effect—if any — on President Kennedy's handling of Congress the next two years.

For three reasons:
1. It's been a dull campaign, without burning issues. Then the Cuban crisis snowed it under.

2. Kennedy will be laying the foundations for himself to run again in 1964.

3. The new Congress will probably be like the old: highly conservative, even though run by his own Democrats.

Predictions run like this:
The Democrats may keep their present Senate margin—64 to 36—and even pick up one or two seats; in the House—where they outnumber Republicans 263 to 174—they may lose a few seats.

That's not much change. A Senate pretty much the same and a House with just a few more Republicans won't make any noticeable difference in their attitude toward Kennedy programs.

The attitude has been strong support on foreign issues and, in this fairly prosperous society, defeats or melting down on many domestic ones.

It was easy to get the impression from Kennedy's campaign oratory that this present Congress was one of the great ones. He glossed over his defeats.

The campaign's biggest unanswered mystery, if this was such a whiz-bang Congress, was why he felt he needed even more Democrats elected.

Even though the new Congress probably will be much like the old one, Kennedy will have to examine his approach to it. The way it treats his programs may affect his own chances for re-election in 1964.

So far he has been an arm-twister to get Congress to go along with him, either by direct appeals or through his aides.

He has deliberately avoided personal conflicts with the men thwarting him (this was former President Eisenhower's technique) and he generally refrained from broadcast appeals to get the public to pressure Congress.

If he continues to use the same mild technique the results should be about the same because the men in Congress will be pretty much the same.

More aggressive and outspoken dealings — particularly with appeals for public support — could have unpredictable results unpalatable to Kennedy who has played very careful politics.

In the end what the new Congress does, or doesn't do, on domestic issues may not count much in the next presidential election.

It's the way he handles foreign affairs these next two years which may shape Kennedy's political future.

Mrs. Thomas C. Patterson

Carol Keener Is Wed To Thomas C. Patterson

Rev. William S. Longworth officiated at the double ring ceremony Saturday afternoon in the chapel of the First Methodist Church uniting in marriage Miss Carol Lynn Keener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Keener of Merle Road, and Thomas Cook Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Patterson of McKeesport, Pa.

The chapel altar was flanked with white spider mums, cibotum ferns and schefflera. Miss Cynthia Shoemaker of Shelby was soloist and wedding selections were played by Homer Taylor.

Escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore an imported gown created by Norman Hartnell of London, England.

The gown was selected by her grandfather, the late Sam F. Keener, and was originally worn by her aunt, Mrs. William Butler, at the time of her wedding. The only one of its type to be sent to the United States by the designer, the fitted gown has a satin underskirt overlaid with three skirts of fine silk tulle. The bodice is fitted with round neckline and long sleeves of tulle applied with satin flowers encrusted with pearls, and rhinestones. The applique sweeps the length of the full skirt entrain. Her finger-tip length veil was caught to a Mary-Queen-of-Scots crown and she carried a cascade bouquet of baby calla lilies and croton leaves.

Attendants were Miss Dorothy Davis of Alliance, maid of honor, and Miss Ellen Miller of Mentor-on-the-Lake, college friends of the bride. Their dresses were of copper colored satin complemented with matching Dior bow headpieces and cascade bouquets of yellow and gold pompons and spider mums.

John L. Patterson of McKeesport served his brother as best man and Jan Thompson of Pittsburgh and Don Keener, brother of the bride, ushered.

The mother of the bride wore a beige wool dress with jacket and Mrs. Patterson a green wool ensemble. Both mothers' corsages were of Talisman roses.

Reception Follows

A reception in the church Fellowship Hall followed the ceremony. An arrangement of yellow mums and pompons and bronze chrysanthemums in a tall cupid container centered the tea table and a three-tier wedding cake ornamented with flowers graced the bride's table. Miss Nancy Knotts of Cleveland, Miss Sandra Fike of Attica, Miss Marilyn Cahoon of Cleveland Heights and Miss Marilyn Kayem of Gates Mills presided at the tea service and assisted at the bride's table.

Upon their return from a honeymoon to New York City the couple will reside at 7800 Perry Highway, Pittsburgh, Pa.

A graduate of Salem High School and Mount Union College where she majored in business administration, the bride is a member of Alpha Xi Delta Sorority.

Mr. Patterson graduated from Allegheny College where he was affiliated with Phi Delta Theta Fraternity and is employed as assistant manager of the Northway Mall G. C. Murphy Co. store at North Hills, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Patterson were hosts at the rehearsal party Friday evening at the Salem Golf Club.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Ladies: A woman wrote to me a few weeks ago that... she washed her black crepe dresses in her washing machine without using any soap or detergent. All she used was ammonia and water.

This was mighty hard for me to believe. Now I not only believe her but I thank her. Last year I bought a black crepe dress. I don't know whether the material is rayon, nylon or a blend. Since I only buy one new black dress about every two years I was very hesitant to try her method of home laundry on it.

However, the cleaners made a mistake. When it came back from the cleaners this time, I knew that it had been wet washed. It still had wrinkles in it. And... the dress had shine all over the front. Nothing makes black crepe look so shabby as shine.

I KNEW I could remove the shine by dipping a wet cloth in pure vinegar, wringing it out and rubbing the shiny portion but... figuring out all love me as much as I love you... I thought I would experiment with my dress.

I filled my washing machine with lukewarm water. I have a top loading type machine. If you have the other type, I would suggest before placing your garment in the machine, you fill it with cold water first then add a little bit of hot water. Never put a black crepe dress in hot water. I then added one-half cup of ammonia, turned on the machine and let it run a minute or two so the water and ammonia were well mixed. Then put in the dress—nothing else.

Ladies, I don't have one of these fancy machines with a lot of buttons. Mine is a semi-automatic. So I ran the machine about four minutes, opened the top of the machine and took the dress out and held it in my hands while letting the water drip out of it. I then drained and rinsed the machine thoroughly and refilled the machine with more lukewarm water. I added one-half cup of vinegar, put the dress back into the machine and let it rinse for about three minutes.

DO NOT ever let the dress spin dry. I have decided that this was where the cleaners must have made their mistake as this causes wrinkles.

Before the machine starts to spin, remove the dress, dripping wet, turn it wrong side out and hang it on a plastic coat hanger. I then hung it in the sun.

Ladies, my black dress is about the prettiest that it has ever been. Granted all of the shine is not off, but with a few rubs with our old down-to-earth vinegar, what little shine was left was removed immediately... and this is most important... I found that my black dress was also wrinkle-free.

MY DRESS did not even need touching up with an iron! Why? I have no idea. It might have been the type of material. But... what I really think it was... is that I took it from the lukewarm water and hung it in the warm sun.

Gals, this is hard to believe. I didn't believe it myself. I'm not telling you to go stick your best black crepe dress in the washing machine, but if the dress is in bad shape anyway—shiny, wrinkles, soiled—why not take a chance?

If I were you, I would not try to press the dress myself if you find out that it does need a pressing job... Send it to the cleaners and say: "Press only." Now about the belt... some belts have a certain type lining on the inside. I do not recommend putting belts into the washing machine. In fact, I didn't even take a chance on my own! Belts on black dresses seldom get dirty—and if they do, the dirt doesn't show anyway—so what I did was dip my washcloth in my plain, old vinegar (yep, right out of my kitchen cabinet), wring it out well and just rub the belt thoroughly with it. This not only removed all shine, but the belt looks good as new.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: Did you ever iron a shirt? Guess you did and maybe still do. Well, shirts were ironed in my home, too, and if memory serves me, I was told it took 20 minutes. If I ever get married I shall never let my wife iron a shirt. I tried it!

NAZIS IN BRITAIN

DURING the early years of World War II, the British beat off the massed might of Nazism. Today, the echoes of Hitler are heard in Britain as a homegrown fascism raises its head. Colin Jordan, a school-teacher, is the leader of Britain's neo-Nazi organization, the British National Socialist Movement. An admirer of Hitler and American Nazi, George Lincoln Rockwell, he is the new hope for racist and hate groups in Britain. These photos peer into Jordan's London headquarters, where they are trying to build nucleus for a form of fascism.

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—"The Shadowed Affair," NBC's original drama Sunday night, turned out to be a belated Halloween gift, both trick and treat.

The trick, and it was a dirty one, was on the audience. We first saw a very young reporter, a pretty girl, arriving to do a profile on Nobel Prize-winner Hans Habben, a novelist. She met his wife, Greer Garson, playing a bristly, dominating, bossy, rude and thoroughly unlikeable woman, and then the author, played by Douglas Fairbanks Jr. as a quiet, pipe-puffing, charming, boyish older man.

Ultimately the unpleasant wife practically threw the girl into her husband's arms and we are given to understand that it was because she had a traumatic childhood, which was obvious. But at the end it turned out that it was all part of a husband-wife plot. That horrid woman was just arranging the plot for another book by her husband—he had to live them, you see. The whole hour was a set-up to fool the audience.

In addition, it was static, talky affair.

But on the treat side, there was the presence of Miss Garson and Fairbanks, two very attractive and persuasive performers who somehow captured one's attention completely and turned the shabby proceedings into a stimulating hour.

West Germany, "the leakiest sieve in the Western camp," has so many spies working for the Communists that one community keeps tabs on them with the aid of an electronic sorting machine.

According to Sunday night's CBS "Twentieth Century" program, Red spies constantly gather information on military affairs, industrial operations, even schools and political parties — and some 200 a month voluntarily turn themselves in to the authorities and confess.

Ed Sullivan abandoned his usual production numbers and acrobatic acts Sunday night for a simple, forthright and very satisfying concert of Richard Rodgers' music.

It was a black tie affair from Carnegie Hall, and a large assortment of talented people (Peggy Lee, Gordon McRae, Roberta Peters, Steve Lawrence, among them) stood quietly in front of microphones and sang the lovely music.

LAST MONTH - IN HISTORY

This and That

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

You can tell the condition of the nation's economy by the way women dress. "When things are booming," says fashion director Ruth Sellers, "bright colors and highly styled clothes are in vogue. But when a downturn occurs mid-lady's fashions become more conservative."

Prosperity Note: A luxury laundry here charges up to $6 a yard for washing fine tablecloths by hand.

Ever wonder why a yawn helps wake you up and feel more alert? The act of yawning and stretching quickens your pulse, thereby giving you more pep.

Odd Jobs: Did you know some fellows in this country make a living as bosom pressers, belly men and neckers? But their jobs aren't particularly romantic. Respectively, they are laundry workers who press shirt fronts, men who attach sounding boards to pianos, and necktie stitchers.

Busy Wives: The average American housewife now opens 800 cans and carries out 1,000 pounds of garbage a year.

Our Quotable Notables: "The ultimate effect of shielding men from the effects of folly is to fill the world with fools."—Herbert Spencer.

You can win money from your bartender by betting him he can't fold a piece of paper in half eight times. No matter how large and thin the paper, he won't be able to do it.

Apt Definitions: Writer Hugh Mulligan says a complaining wife is a "vintage whine."

Looking for an atomic age hide-away? Operators of 27 commercial caves in Missouri say they can shelter a million persons in an emergency. Lester B. Dill, operator of the huge Meramec Caverns in that state, says he already has made 5,000 reservations.

Somebody was wrong: The first time George Gershwin, the noted composer, played the piano in a theater he was laughed off the stage by both the audience and his fellow performers. And who remembers their names now?

The high price of keeping calm:

Americans spend about $280 million annually on tranquilizers.

Worth Repeating: "The best way to keep teen-agers out of hot water is to put some dishes in it." Arnold H. Glasow.

Tidbits: Ancient Romans ate beans at funerals because of a belief that the souls of the dead resided in them. The banjo has been called "America's only national musical instrument." Basketball draws more paid admissions than any other U.S. sport. Diamonds have been found in Arkansas, California.

7:30 — Ch. 5, Cheyenne: Cheyenne must defend himself after being accused of murder in "Dark Decision." Diane Brewster, in the role of a blind girl, leads a large guest cast.

8:30 — Ch. 3, Saints and Sinners: The story tonight is a drama about a political figure played by Charlie Ruggles, who refuses to withdraw from a campaign at the request of his party in "A Servant in the House of My Party."

9 — Ch. 8, Danny Thomas: In order to combat his opponent in a campaign for junior class president, Rusty considers a suggestion for a rally at the Copa Club.

9:30 — Ch. 8, Andy Griffith: Barney tries to help Andy by fixing him up with another girl after Peggy breaks a date to go out with a handsome friend of her college days.

10 — Ch. 8, Surfside 6: Sandy, played by Troy Donahue, is asked to help in a search for stolen bonds in "According to Our Files."

How Super Shell's 9 ingredients can give cars top performance

POWER INGREDIENT in Super Shell works for world champion driver Phil Hill (above, in Ferrari racer). Hill, first American to win the World Championship for Drivers, relies on Super Shell. One important reason: power. Today's Super Shell contains "cat-cracked" gasoline—a power ingredient made by cracking heavier petroleum molecules into lighter, livelier ones. It works to give you the power you need for top performance.

NOISE-FIGHTING INGREDIENTS in Super Shell work for a quiet engine at all speeds. Shell scientists even use a stethoscope (above) to check effect of Super Shell's anti-knock ingredients. One of these ingredients, an anti-knock mix, is so effective that a teaspoon per gallon can boost anti-knock rating five points. Alkylate, another Super Shell ingredient, is noted for controlling knock in hot engines at high speeds better than anything else yet available.

MILEAGE INGREDIENT in Super Shell is Platformate. Shell scientists test it in many cars, many places. In a recent test in San Francisco (above), exactly 250 cc. (about half a pint) of fuel without Platformate was fed into test car. Car ran until fuel was used up, then coasted to a stop (left). Distance: 6186 feet. Test was repeated, using same blend of fuel with Platformate added. Same amount of fuel. Same car. Same conditions. In this test, Super Shell with Platformate took car 6454 feet (right), gave a mileage bonus of 4.3 percent.

TCP* AND FOUR OTHER INGREDIENTS complete Super Shell's 9-ingredient blend. TCP additive can help restore power lost due to combustion deposits—can also extend spark plug life. Butane is for quick starts. Pentane mix helps engines run smoothly during "warm-up." The gum preventive ingredient is to help keep carburetors clean inside. And, when the weather calls for it, Super Shell contains an anti-icer. That's nine ingredients in Super Shell—scientifically blended to give your car top performance.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2889212.

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in expository or ointment form under the name Preparation 404. At all drug counters.

How U. S. Pieced Together Data

Evidence Of Russian Buildup In Cuba

EDITOR'S NOTE — This fourth article of Relman Morin's five-part series on the Cuban crisis tells how the United States pieced together evidence of the Soviet military buildup.

By RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Imagine a strip of photographic film, 20 to 30 feet wide, some six miles long.

Cut in sections, it is stretched across the floor. Photo analysts, on hands and knees, crawl around on the picture, peering at them through stereomicroscopes, special magnifying glasses. The technicians note any detail of change in terrain. More especially, they look for objects on the sites that weren't there yesterday.

They chart the birth of a crisis, a Soviet nuclear threat to the United States swiftly taking shape on Cuban bases.

Beginning Monday, Oct. 15, says a chief of intelligence, American pilots flew six and seven photo reconnaissance missions over Cuba daily.

"We blanketed the island," he says.

The planes brought back miles of film.

Today, you look at a sequence of pictures taken above a missile site. The first shots show empty country. Then, apparently out of thin air, construction becomes visible in succeeding days—anti-aircraft, a half-completed security fence, prefabricated concrete arches, a batch plant for making cement, lunching pads, fire control bunkers, an earth-molded structure, revetments.

It was this evidence that impelled President Kennedy to declare a quarantine on shipments of offensive weapons to Cuba, and to demand the dismantling of the missile sites already built.

Republicans have attacked Kennedy on the ground that he acted too slowly.

But a top intelligence agent gives this version:

Late August — Cuban refugees report the arrival of Soviet technicians in Cuba and the erection of rocket launchers. The refugees are carefully interrogated. Checks on the sites show they are surface-to-air launchers, and "cruise sites," coastal missile artillery. Their range is too short to reach the United States.

Mid-September—A U2 plane belonging to the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa is shot down over Communist China. U2 flights over Cuba are suspended "until we could learn what brought down the plane in China."

Late September—"We began to be uneasy because of the large numbers of Russian ships coming to Cuba. They never carried missiles on deck, always in the holds. This became apparent later."

Sept. 28—A photo of a Soviet freighter shows some large crates on deck. In the picture, they look cylindrical, like miniature Quonset huts. Evaluation indicates they are probably Ilyushin-28s, a Soviet light bomber, with a range of 750 miles. These crates are unloaded in remote ports, not Havana, and solely by the Russians, not the Cubans.

Late Sept. to Oct. 1—Cuban refugees report heavy night-time truck traffic on the highways.

Early October—bad weather and clouds over Cuba cause a second suspension of the reconnaissance flights.

Oct. 14—A photo mission reveals sites under construction. They are for medium rockets, range 1,000 miles, and for intermediates, range 2,000 miles. On the same day, pictures are taken of the cylindrical crates, seen Sept. 28 on the freighter, now at San Julian airport. Now it is confirmed that the assembly for the IL-28s was in the crates. The missiles and the bombers are offensive weapons.

Oct. 15—These photographs are evaluated in the early evening. They touch off the train of events that led to the quarantine.

"I think, but I can't prove absolutely, that the Russians started the construction work about Oct. 10 or 11," he says.

By Oct. 19, at San Diego Los Banos, photographs showed 7 missiles, 4 erectors, 100 vehicles, and tents for 500 men. The base became operational in three days, the officer said.

The Soviet objective was described as "a rapid secret simultaneous deployment" of the missile bases.

"In this day and age," the officer observed, "even the rapid development of a weapons site is a casus belli" (provocation to war.)

Before the end of the week of Oct. 15, the evidence was clear. The President was preparing to present it in his statement ordering the quarantine. Kennedy was ready to make it on Sunday, Oct. 21, but Secretary of State Dean Rusk persuaded him to wait a day, saying it would be difficult to pre-notify all the ambassadors on a weekend.

On Monday, Oct. 22, an hour before the President spoke, representatives of the NATO, SEATO and CENTO alliances were invited to the State Department. Waiting for them was Roger Hilsman, director of the Bureau of Intelligence and Research.

He presented the American findings, showing photographs and slides of the Soviet rocket installations in Cuba. Later, he delivered the same briefing to representatives of the neutral nations.

The general impression is that the U.S. case was wholly persuasive.

At 6 p.m., Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin, was called to Rusk's office. He emerged 25 minutes later. Rusk had told him about the arms-blockade of Cuba. The ambassador, normally bluff cheerful-looking man, seemed shaken.

Says an agent, "We caught them with their launchers down and their rockets showing."

NEGOTIATIONS CONTINUE

CINCINNATI (AP) — Contract talks between negotiators for the U. S. Pottery Association and the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters were to continue today.

The negotiations for a new two-year contract, expected to set the pattern for the U.S. pottery industry, began last week. The present contract expires Nov. 30.

Russia Ousts Official of U.S. Embassy

MOSCOW (AP)—For the third time in a month the Soviet Union has accused a member of the U.S. Embassy staff of spying and ordered him out of the country.

The State Department termed the latest charges, against Richard Carl Jacob, a secretary-archivist, "complete fabrication." Jacob, 26, was accused of "maintaining secret liaison with a spy on the territory of the Soviet Union."

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said he was "caught redhanded while removing intelligence data from a secret hiding place in the entrance hall of house number 5-6 in Pushkinskaya Street in Moscow."

The nature of the material, said Tass, established "beyond a shadow of a doubt" that Jacob was in contact with an undercover agent.

An embassy spokesman said Jacob was arrested Friday, forced into a car and detained for 2½ hours at a militia station. The embassy protested to the Soviet Foreign Ministry that he had been illegally detained in violation of the diplomatic immunity to which he was entitled.

The embassy refused to say what Jacob was doing when he was picked up.

Jacob, a bachelor from Egg Harbor City, N.J., had served in Moscow for 10 months.

By JACK CLARY Associated Press Sports Writer The Green Bay Packers are rolling along toward the first perfect season in the National Football League since the Chicago Bears' mighty monsters of the Midway ran up an 11-0 mark back in 1942. There doesn't seem to be anyone around who is going to halt the Packers' blitz.

The defending NFL champions made the present-day edition of the Bears victim No. 8 Sunday as they won their 16th game in a row, 38-7. The string includes a victory in the last regular 1961 game, a resounding 37-0 championship victory over the New York Giants and six exhibition games this summer.

New York took over the top spot in the Eastern Conference with a shaky 31-28 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals and Washington dropped to second place by losing 38-10 to the Dallas Cowboys.

In other NFL action, the Lions defeated the Los Angeles Rams 12-3, Philadelphia and Cleveland played to a 14-14 tie, Pittsburgh rallied in the final seconds to beat Minnesota 39-31 and the Baltimore Colts defeated San Francisco 22-3.

The Packers solved Chicago (4-4) in the second half with the combination of Bart Starr's passing and fullback Jim Taylor's running.

The Giants (6-2) outscored St. Louis (2-5) three touchdowns to two in a furious fourth period, with the winner coming with 3 1/2 minutes left on Y. A. Tittle's 20-yard pass to Alex Webster.

Dallas (4-3-1) rotated quarterbacks Eddie LeBaron and Don Meredith in its first win ever over the Redskins (4-2-2) and each threw a pair of touchdown passes.

Pat Studstill, subbing for flanker Terry Barr, helped keep Detroit (6-2) from tying for a Western title. Two twisting punt returns set up a touchdown, which he scored on a pass from Earl Morrall, and a field goal by Wayne Walker.

Frank Ryan filled in ably at quarterback for Cleveland (4-3-1), scoring once, gaining 85 yards rushing and another 119 passing. The Eagles' Bobby Walston missed a 41-yard field goal with only one second left that would have won for the Eagles.

Lou Michaels' third field goal and Dick Hoak's 18-yard run in the last 27 seconds beat back the Vikings (2-6) after Tom Christpherson's field goal had given Minnesota a 31-29 lead.

The Colts (4-4) broke open a tight ball game in the third period on Johnny Unitas' touchdown pass to Lenny Moore after leading only 5-3 at the half.

Ryan Unhappy With Results, Scores TD

Browns Tie Eagles 14-14 In Thriller

By FRITZ HOWELL Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Unhappy of the Cleveland claim, after Sunday's unsatisfactory 14-14 deadlock with the Philadelphia Eagles, was Brown quarterback Frank Ryan—who outtrashed all the enemy ball carriers.

Making his first start as a replacement for injured Jim Ninkowski, the 200-pound 6-foot-3 Texan gained 85 yards in nine carries, scored a touchdown, and completed 10 of 23 passes for 119 yards. The Eagles rushed for 65 yards, but Ryan said, "I'm not being paid to run—I'm paid to pass, and I didn't do it too well," Ryan said. "I have no excuse, for I've thrown a wet ball before."

The Browns dropped 1 1/2 games behind the New York Giants in the National Football League's Eastern Division.

Sunday's game was a frustrating one for both sides. Each team had three passes intercepted, each lost a fumble, the Eagles' Bobby Walston missed two field goals—one in the last second from 41 yards — and the Browns' Lou Groza missed three.

Jim Brown's fumble on the first play of the game, which John Nocera recovered on the Brown 25, led to the Eagles' first score. Clarence Peaks scat - backed around his left end for 22 yards and the touchdown with little more than a minute played.

In the second period, the Browns evened it when Charlie

Scales went five to score after Ross Fichtner had intercepted a Sonny Jurgensen pass and lugged it 31 yards to the Eagle 17.

The Eagles got a pair of big breaks in the third period in a 62-yard 8-play touchdown drive. A tripping penalty on a Jurgensen-Tim Brown pass added up to a 33-yard gain to the Brown 31.

On the next play Bill Glass broke through to hit Jurgensen, knocked him loose from the ball, and then picked up the bounding pigskin for a 52-yard race for an apparent touchdown. But the officials ruled a Brown defender had held Tommy McDonald, and the Eagles got the ball, a five-yard advance, and the Browns lost the touchdown.

Philadelphia went right on in for the second score, Brown going over from the five.

After Groza missed a 42-yard field goal try, Ryan took charge on the next series, completing three passes and picking up 35 yards in four runs, climaxed by a 9-yard rollout for the second Brown touchdown.

Then he held the ball for Groza's placement which tied the score. After that Vince Costello intercepted a pass, and Groza missed a field goal attempt from 45 yards.

Then, with 24 seconds to go, Ben Scotti picked off a Ryan pass, and with one second to play, Walston missed a three-pointer from 41 yards.

Scott Riffle, Jack Detwiler, Jay Youtz, Barry Christen, Randy Erath and Bud Shaffer Ford Representative Hank Willard. First place winners received Pittsburgh Steelers warmup jackets, second place winners received helmets, and footballs autographed by the Green Bay Packers went to boys who placed third.

Denver Grabs Loop Lead; Texans Lose

Stone's 3 Tallies Pace Broncos Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Denver Broncos, dangerously close to being the worst team in the American Football League last year, are the new Western Conference leaders today because of an alert defense and a hurry-up halfback named Donnie Stone.

With the Broncos capitalizing on three San Diego errors and Stone crashing through for three touchdowns, the Colorado upstarts, who dropped 11 of 14 games last year, overcame the defending conference champion Chargers 23-20 at San Diego Sunday. It was the Broncos' seventh in nine games, and boosted them to the top of the West over Dallas.

The Texans fell a half game behind, losing a 14-6 decision to Houston in their own Cotton Bowl backyard after trouncing the Oilers 31-7 a week ago in Houston. It was the Texans' second defeat in eight games.

The Oilers' victory put them only a half game behind the Eastern Conference-leading Boston Patriots, who were held to a 28-28 tie by the last-place Bills in Buffalo Saturday night.

New York's Titans emerged from a last-place tie with Buffalo by beating winless Oakland 31-21 at the Polo Grounds in Sunday's other game. The Titans, with two straight victories, own a 4-5 record to Buffalo's 3-5-1.

Stone, a 24-year-old Arkansas U. alumnus, bulled over for Denver's first and second touchdowns, then scored the third and what proved to be the winning TD on a 13-yard pass from Frank Tripucka.

West Branch Drops 12-6 Decision

Ort Scores Twice As Canfield Wins

Pete Ort scored early in the fourth quarter to pace Canfield to a 12-6 victory over West Branch at Salem Reilly Field last Saturday night.

Bob Buttermore caught a 40-yard touchdown pass from Gary Barber for the Warriors in the second session.

Canfield's winning TD was set up when the Cardinals recovered a fumble on the 29-yard line of West Branch.

Ort, who put Canfield ahead 6-0 in the first period, climaxed the fourth quarter drive by plunging a yard for the final six points.

West Branch had two drives halted during the contest, one on the Canfield nine and another on the winners' 10.

Fumbles marred the game which was played on a slippery turf.

Canfield posted its fourth win in nine starts. West Branch is 3-6 for the year.

Canfield finishes up its season at home against Leetonia Saturday, while West Branch ends its campaign at Brookfield.

Crestview High School rolled to its sixth straight victory with a convincing 28-14 victory over Greenford last Saturday.

It was the final game of the season for the Bobcats who finished with a 5-4 mark. The Rebels end their campaign at Sebring Friday.

Crestview scored in every quarter. John Cresanto featured for the Rebels as he tallied two touchdowns on runs of one and six yards.

Hoff plunged one yard, and Rupert raced nine yards for the Rebels' other TDs.

Davis and Cook each caught 12-yard touchdown passes from Pagan for Greenford.

Crestview dropped its first three contests of the season.

Northwestern, USC, Alabama Make Bids For Bowl Berths

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A bowl is sometimes a household utensil which is used to contain out or leftovers and occasionally as a hiding place for small change saved from the house money.

Sometimes, however, it is a very large stadium which is used to contain college football teams—and it's a long, long way from being a small change operation.

In respect to the second type, an unlikely series of upsets last weekend helped focus a faint glimmer of light through the muddy, soupy uncertainty surrounding which teams are likely to get bids for the New Year's classics.

There doesn't appear to be room for leftovers.

Ohio State, Purdue and Michigan State fell victim to full-blown upsets in the Big Ten, which made Northwestern (6-0) look big as the visiting team in the Rose Bowl. Southern California (6-0) whipped Washington 14-0, probably its biggest hurdle. It gave the Trojans the inside track as the host team.

In the South, Alabama (7-0) and Mississippi (6-0) emerged as the dominant teams in the scramble for berths in the Orange, Sugar, and Gator bowls. Alabama, defending national champion, unbeaten in 25 games and currently rated second in the nation, rolled over Mississippi State 20-0 while Ole Miss beat Louisiana State 15-7.

The Big Eight winner gets a spot in the Orange, and it now looks like a fight between Missouri and onrushing Oklahoma. Missouri (6-0-1) upended previously unbeaten Nebraska 16-7 while Oklahoma (4-2) but unbeaten in the conference, ammered Colorado 62-0. Their struggle for the No. 1 spot probably will be resolved in their game Nov. 17.

Texas regained the top spot in the Southwest Conference with a 6-0 edge over Southern Methodist. The Longhorns' 3-0-1 conference mark gives them the lead in the competition for the Cotton Bowl host, but Arkansas, 17-7 victors over Texas A.M. and Texas Christian, 28-26 winners over Baylor, are still in the running with 2-1.

In the East, bowl-minded coach Paul Dietzel got his Army team (6-1) past Boston University 26-0. The Orange Bowl has expressed interest in the Cadets, who have yet to play Pitt and Navy. Dartmouth remained unbeaten with a 9-0 triumph over Yale while Penn State beat Maryland 23-7.

Northwestern got another outstanding performance from sophomore quarterback Tom Myers in a 26-21 victory over surprised tough Indiana. Myers completed 16 of 26 passes for 200 yards and two touchdowns. Northwestern, currently ranked 10th in the nation, is shooting for its first Big Ten title in 10 years but still has to face bruisers Wisconsin and Michigan State.

Wisconsin warmed up for its Saturday clash with the Wildcats with a 34-12 rout of Michigan. Michigan State fell before Minnesota 28-7 in one of the conference's shockers. Iowa eliminated defending champion Ohio State from title consideration 28-14 and Illinois snapped a 15-game losing string, 14-10, at the expense of Purdue.

The upsets, which included Florida's 22-3 rout of previously unbeaten Auburn, left only six major teams on the unbeaten, untied list: Northwestern, Southern California, Dartmouth, Mississippi, Alabama and Ohio University.

Georgia Tech, still in the running in the South, got a touchdown and two field goals from Billy Lohridge in a 20-9 triumph over Duke. Oregon State edged Washington State 18-12 in one of the key Far West games.

Buckeyes Eye Indiana Next

Mummey, Armstrong Hurt; OU Triumphs

Ohio State's win-one-lose - one Buckeyes followed form Saturday and lost their third game of the season; but, according to the same form, they should bounce back this Saturday with a victory over Indiana.

The Buckeyes not only lost a 28-14 decision to Iowa but they possibly lost the services of perhaps their top lineman and top back — center Billy Joe Armstrong and quarterback John Mummey.

Both were sidelined early in the Hawkeye tussle and they remain a question for the coming game with the Hoosiers.

Trailing 21-7 at the half, the Bucks took the kickoff and marched to a touchdown, held the Hawkeyes, and drove to the Iowa five where they fumbled. Then the Ohio scoring threat ended.

Elsewhere on Ohio's 26 - game card Saturday, only seven conference games were played as most teams prepared for the final drive for loop championships.

In the classy Mid - American Conference, league - leading Ohio University remained unbeaten, crushing Marshall 35-0. In four Mid-Am games, the Bobcats have not had their goal line crossed. The big test, however, comes Saturday at Bowling Green.

The defending champion Falcons, beaten for the first time this year 23-7 at West Texas Saturday, have only a tie in MAC play to mar their record, and the battle will decide the champion.

In the other two Mid - Am games, preseason favorite Miami got back on the victory trail with a 21-12 decision over Toledo and Western Michigan toppled Kent State 19-6.

In the Ohio Conference, Marietta defeated Capital 29-28 for the Pioneers' first victory in 16 games. Their last triumph was two years ago—on the Capital gridiron.

Mount Union defeated Kenyon 21-14 and Baldwin-Wallace shut out Heidelberg 14-0 in the only other Ohio Conference games.

Wittenberg defeated Gettysburg (Pa.) 27-6 in a non-league game. The victory set the stage for the Ohio Conference's title game Saturday with Wittenberg going to Akron. The Zips suffered their first loss of the year Thursday at the hands of non-conference Youngstown.

In the Presidents' Conference, league-leading John Carroll posted its fifth victory in as many starts with a 44-0 triumph over winless Case Tech.

In other highlighters over the weekend, Xavier (4-3) defeated Louisville for the 13th consecutive time by the appropriate score of 13-12; Holy Cross beat Dayton (1-7) 36-14; Tulsa clinched a tie for the Missouri Valley Championship, defeating Cincinnati (2-4) 24-18, and Bluffton won over Manchester 27-6.

State's Budget Is Already Beginning To Form for '63

By PHIL GUNBY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Whether it is presented by Michael V. DiSalle of James A. Rhodes, the budget that Ohio's governor will submit to the legislature next year is beginning to take form now.

Whoever is governor in 1963 will make the major decisions that will stamp the form of the budget as it goes into Ohio's General Assembly.

Of the governor's role in the final shaping of the budget for introduction, state finance director James H. Maloon says: "The budget is the policy document of any administration."

At this point, state department heads are turning in their budget proposals to the Finance Department. In most cases, division chiefs of the departments began work on estimates months ago, working with departmental fiscal officers.

Then, having seen their division chiefs' proposals and heard their reasons, it was the department directors' turn to sweat a little blood.

Under a drastically revised budget data-gathering program initiated in 1960, Maloon says "the department head literally is forced to evaluate which are the most urgent among a really endless number of choices."

On those occasions where a new administration takes office and some Cabinet changes are made, the new department heads must burn the midnight oil to have recommended and possibly to make changes.

In the preparation process, Herbert B. Eagon, director of the Natural Resources Department, notes that "we break it into 2½ per cent increments—if we got 2½ per cent more, we'd do this. If we got 5 per cent more, we'd do this and that."

Maloon adds that an explanation must accompany each priority listing. He says directors must also list priorities in the opposite direction in case the department budget is cut.

The idea, Maloon goes on, is "to prepare a budget in such a way that the dollar cost of providing services clearly is tied to the proposals for providing those services."

A department head has to be scrupulously fair in determining priorities, says Robert H. Terhune, agriculture director: "You have to appraise your entire program. You can't lean toward the proposals of one of your divisions."

Those assisting state highway director Everett S. Preston point out that the department director must try to look ahead 2½ years in preparing his budget, allow for salary step-ups throughout his department and keep an eye on federal programs.

Among other things, "when it comes right down to the director to exercise judgment," says acting director Robert K. Dean of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, the need to meet outside salary competition must be considered.

Eugene P. O'Grady now heading the Commerce Department, cites the value of discussions with any advisory boards of the department.

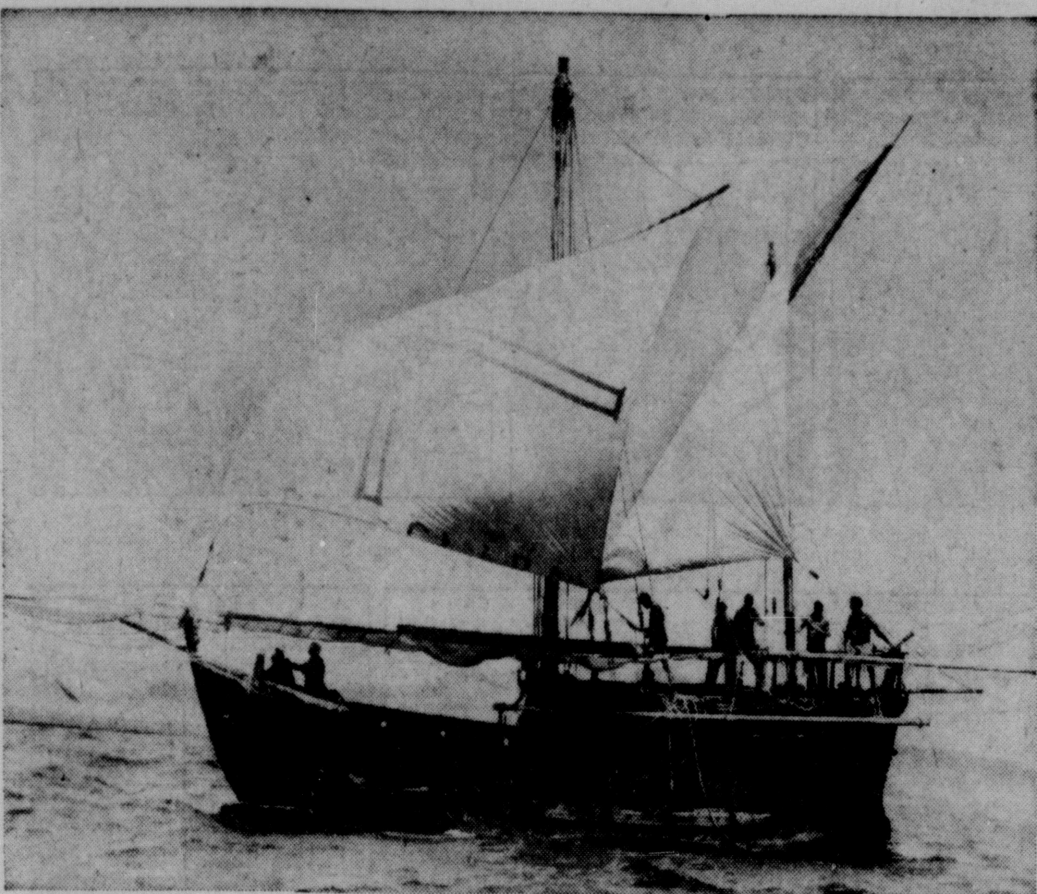

The overriding concern most directors feel for budget proposals is expressed by E. E. Holt, superintendent of the Department of Education, who says: "I think I'm as obligated functioning for the state as I would be at home."

After department heads prepare proposals, priorities, and justifications, the Finance Department staff tries to validate cost figures. Then follow hearings for additional explanation as to resolve differences, Maloon says, adding:

"Ultimately we get to a position where we set aside some things because, although they may be desirable, they are so far down the line in priority. We list them and tell the governor 'These are lists you may want to look at.'"

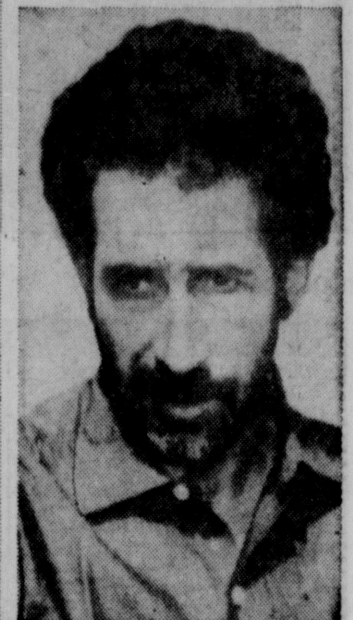

Of the Finance Department staff, he says: "We have tried to say to them: 'You don't make the decisions. You simply develop the material on which decisions may be made.' This can serve any chief executive."

For whoever sits in the governor's chair and shapes the final budget for submission to the legislature, Maloon notes that "a HISTORIC VOYAGE — Somewhere in the vast Atlantic Ocean a 39-foot replica of the Nina, smallest of Columbus's three caravels, is sailing over the same route followed by the discoverer of the New World 470 years ago. Nina II and its crew of eight is commanded by Lieut. Carlos Etayo Elizondo, 42, right, who also is a historian. The intrepid mariners, wearing authentic costumes, are using only crude navigational equipment of the type Columbus used.
